DBA/DOC:

Division of Child Support (DCS) records show that Mr B Production owes a child support debt totaling $ 7000.00.

Unless you are an Indian tribe, tribal business, or Indian-owned business located on a reservation, Washington State law requires you to withhold $ 7000.00 in money or other property belonging to the above-named debtor. Withhold from the following accounts or property.

1. ☐ All personal accounts of the debtor named above.
2. ☐ All business accounts of the debtor named above.
3. ☒ Other: Any and all property and accounts being disbursed and / or held for the above named person.

If you are a tribe, tribal business, or Indian-owned business located on a reservation, please mark the appropriate box on the enclosed Answer to Order to Withhold and Deliver - Property, Accounts, or Labor and Industries Benefits. Return the marked form to our office at the address listed on page 2. If you voluntarily choose to honor this order, we appreciate your voluntary assistance.

By law you must:

1. Immediately withhold the money or property listed above as soon as you receive this order.
2. Send the withheld money or property to us within seven working days. Make all payments payable to Washington State Support Registry.
 - a. Send all payments or property to: WASHINGTON STATE SUPPORT REGISTRY
PO BOX 9010
OLYMPIA WA 98507-9010
 - b. Include the debtor's social security number, and account number IN 2260979 on all payments and correspondence.
3. Answer this order within 20 days after you receive it. Do so even if you have not withheld money or do not possess property due the debtor. To answer, complete the enclosed Answer to Order to Withhold and Deliver-Property, Accounts, or Labor and Industries Benefits form. Send the completed answer form to the address listed on page 2 of this order.

You may remit payments by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT). For more information about EFT call 1-800-468-7422.

If you do not answer or if you refuse to comply with this order, you may be liable for the lesser amount of the child support debt owed or the amount of money or property you should have withheld. You may also be liable for costs, interest, and reasonable attorney's fees.

Under Washington State law, the debtor may not hold you civilly liable for complying with this order.

NOTICE TO THE DEBTOR

There are three ways for you to contest this order.

1. Some monies are exempt from this order. Exempt monies include public assistance grants, some social security disability benefits, and earnings of a non-obligated spouse. See RCW 26.16, RCW 74.20A, and WAC 388-14-390 for more information about exempt monies. If you want only to claim that this order affects exempt monies, contact the DCS authorized representative at the address listed below. Do so within 20 days after you receive this order. The DCS representative may be able to settle your dispute.
 - If you cannot settle the dispute with the DCS representative, you may ask for an adjudicative proceeding (hearing). A hearing applies only to disputes about exempt funds located in bank accounts. At a hearing you must prove that the disputed funds are exempt.
2. If you want to dispute something in this order other than exempt monies, contact the representative listed below. The DCS representative may be able to settle the dispute.
 - If you cannot settle the dispute with the DCS representative, you may ask for a Conference Board.
3. You have the option of filing an action in court any time.
 - a. You may file a court action in the county where the property is located. If a tribe, tribal enterprise, or Indian-owned business located on a reservation holds the property stated in this order, you may file the action in the tribal court where the property is located.
 - b. If you file a court action, you must serve notice of the action on the Attorney General's Office and the other party to your child support order.
